Topics of the 2017 AHLiST Conference: Inclusiveness, Interdependence and Interconnectedness

The 2017 AHLiST Conference aims to bring a wide range of researchers and educators to discuss current challenges and analyze the emerging topics including, but certainly not limited to,

- How to bring two or more constituents or components that compete against each other into contact, acknowledgment or even cooperation
- How to embrace the stated limit or extremes in consideration by envisioning shared or inclusive environment and society
- How to esteem self-reliance and support self-sustainability innovations yet to realize symbiotic reliance

All areas of arts and humanities are invited, but of particular interest are papers in the following fields: History, Digital Humanities, Literature, Communication, Science and Technology, Mediterranean Studies, Area Studies, Film Studies, Arts, Linguistics, Political Science, Social Sciences, Gender Studies, and Interdisciplinary Studies.

Conference Panel or Individual Proposal Guidelines

- Submissions can be in ENGLISH, ESPAÑOL or PORTUGUÊS. There will be two options to propose/submit: a) panel proposal; b) individual paper.
- Panel Proposal (Session Proposal with three or more papers): please include the title of the panel and the names of presenters; a panel abstract of 150-250 words; a separate page with the names of presenters, their contact information and institutional affiliation(s), the titles of their presentations; and a 250-word abstract for each paper.
- Individual Proposal: A title and 250-word abstract (double-spaced and 12 fonts)
